DOGGONE FUN TIMES

Overheard recently in the Moeller Household. Translated from the Goldenese by Jennifer

Brandi: Wagging tails, smiling faces, no complaints, unconditional love, simple needs— we are certainly fortunate to be rescued Goldenes, aren't we Blanche?

Blanche: You bet, Brandi! Those humans need to take a cue from us and relax and have some fun. Love a Golden Rescue has three events which are very enjoyable and helps rescue more of our Golden relatives!

Brandi: I LOVE the Reunion picnic which was held on June 13th at Vago Park. Over fifty other Goldenes brought their humans out for a day of food, contests, games, gifts and fresh air in the park! The freedom theme was so cool and we were "stylin'" in our red, white and blue bandanas!

Blanche: I like when I see my sister Rori and her forever family, not to mention my cousin Rocco (the show-off!) and Fidget (Mr. Fluffy Tail—if only he could learn to walk normally on tile floors, instead of ice-skating!)

Brandi: Seeing my old friends and meeting new ones is great. Our humans sure like to brag about us! All of them know their Golden is the best; one family even names their dogs after Greek Gods. There's always that well-behaved group with the upper crust accents accompanying their "Mum". At least it didn't rain on our parade this year!

Blanche: Mom and Dad really like the Trivia Night Fundraisers in Illinois in the spring and St Charles on August 1st. These are Love a Golden Rescue's major fundraisers.

Mom and Dad like checking out the food at the other tables—especially the Blair's. I don't think our parents are as smart as we thought because they don't do so well on the great questions Tim asks but they have lots of fun anyway. We'd have fun on Trivia Night too if they wouldn't hide the toilet paper while they are gone!

Brandi: Mom says they have a totally awesome silent auction but some of the judges lurk and overbid her on the Chocolate Basket. Now if she'd walk us more.....

Blanche: Don't say it!

Brandi: Those Swanson, Johnson, and Knoche dogs are always talking about "Petapalooza"...what's that?

Blanche: Well, Gunnie Swanson and Chili Johnson told me this is a really fun day for dogs and their owners in September at McNair Park in St Charles. There are all kinds of games and several rescues in the area are represented. Mom likes all the raffle items. There are all kinds of dogs there and some even let their humans dress them up in costumes!

Brandi: The "Will Dress for Food" Coalition, no doubt. Well, it sounds like we've got three great ideas for humans to have fun, but I doubt if they'll do the tail-wagging part.

Blanche: Depends on the human.

President's Message

Hi--

As of May 31 2009, we have taken 39 dogs into rescue. In the early months of 2009, five consecutive intakes tested Heartworm Positive. At the time, it was overwhelming, as we did not know who was going to foster them during treatment. Thanks to our dedicated foster homes, and a great friend of Love a Golden Rescue, we found foster homes for them during their month long treatment. All are now adopted or waiting for their forever homes. A big thanks also goes to volunteers who held special fund raisers to raise money for the treatment. One such fund raiser was selling T J Pizza's, and a great job was done by everyone.

Currently Allie is recovering from TPLO surgery and will be ready for her forever home in August. Blossom is a beautiful Golden who has allergies. She is looking for a very special home who will maintain her special diet and understand her environmental allergies.

Senior Golden's are very special to us, and we continue to help those that we hear about. It is very rewarding to have wonderful people who adopt these older Golden's and give them a loving home.

Thank you for being part of Love a Golden Rescue and for all of your support .

Golden thoughts,
Jan

ASK ELSA

Dear Elsa,

While we were out running, we came across a black and white critter. We were very curious and went to investigate. Unfortunately, this critter was not too happy and sprayed us. We had a terrible smell all over us. Our Mom & Dad were not too happy. Do you have any ideas how to get the smell off? Cee Cee and Lacey

Dear Cee Cee and Lacey,

That critter was a skunk. You have to watch out for them, as they spray to protect themselves. I did some research and found this Skunk Tonic on Missouri Conservations web page. I have also heard diluted tomato juice will help remove the smell.

This can be used on people, clothing and pets.

Mix Together

1 quart of hydrogen peroxide

1/4 cup baking soda

1 teaspoon liquid laundry soap or dishwashing detergent

The first two ingredients form an alkaline peroxide that chemically changes the skunk essence into sulfonic acid, an odorless chemical. The soap breaks down the oily skunk essence and makes it more susceptible to the other chemicals.

Keep away from eyes, nose and mouth of people and pets.

Do not store this mixture or put it in a closed container. When kept in a warm place, the mixture may expand and burst the container. Good luck and stay away from skunks.

2007-2014
petlover coalition

St Louis Petlovers Coalition

The St Louis Petlovers Coalition is a new group, steered by Purina, to join animal welfare groups in a united effort in helping dogs and cats in the St Louis Area. As President of Love a Golden Rescue, I have represented our group from the onset. Each group remains independent but has a common united goal in helping animals.

The web page for the group is www.stlpetlover.org. Please take a look at the web page. There is a list of groups which have been involved in getting this off the ground. Each member group is assigned to a committee and I am on the Education committee. Currently I am learning far more about the animal shelter world than I can give back, but once in a while I have some input. One of the main focus areas is Spay/Neuter and placement of animals.

Love a Golden Rescue is a respected name in the local animal rescue world.

The full press release is printed on page 10.

Golden Pennies

Over the last four years we have collected 300,000
pennies to help our Golden's.

Our next milestone is 400,000 pennies.

We have now collected 54,971
toward that milestone.

These pennies will assist our Golden Retrievers, who were strays, who have been rescued from shelters or whose families could no longer care for them.

Our rescue provides vet care and foster homes to Golden's prior to their adoptions by loving homes.
Please bring your pennies to any LAGR event.

HAPPY ENDINGS

Izzy is in her dream home and loves her stuffed toys. She collects them all and takes them to her bed.

Nova resting: His forever home reports he is awesome and they are having so much fun and absolutely adore him.

Jack (formerly Jolly) recently completed his first obedience class. He was a ham and at times a little unruly. Even with all of that, he passed with flying colors. He starts his Canine Good Citizen class in another week. This is a photo from his obedience class graduation.

Buddy (formerly Indy) has been a great addition to our family. He is very loving and very gentle.

Bobby Jo loves to swim and is enjoying life.

Buddy (formerly Conan), is one of the three Golden mix puppies that came to Love a Golden in the spring 2008. He is doing very well, has to carry everything in his mouth (a ball, a paper, anything) and is a very smart puppy. He has completed advance obedience training before he was a year old. He is waiting to get tested for his Canine Good Citizen test.

We found his mom only a couple of miles away from us, and they love to see each other.

Scarlett is a really good dog. With the following exceptions:

We've only heard her bark once, when she was wanting the neighbor cat to play.

She thinks she can catch every squirrel.

She does not jump on people.

Very good with kids.

She has managed to ignore the cat long enough where it no longer matters to the cat.

Sam is very happy she has Scarlett.

She walked perfectly to the prom to be shown off.

She already has the run of the house, with the cat's permission of course.

No pottie accidents, fingers crossed.

Wait, there's nothing negative, maybe she's the perfect dog.

Believe me, we all think so.

All of our adoptable Goldens can be found on our web site at: <http://www.loveagolden.com/AvailableDogs.htm>

Dee Dee

is a young Golden about 1 1/2 years old that loves to play and has typical puppy energy. She loves to chase any kind of ball, especially squeaky tennis balls.

Dylan

is a young playful boy about 1 1/2 years old who is looking for his forever home. He loves to run and play in the yard. When he is done, he will curl up at your feet to sleep.

IN LOVING MEMORY

We lost Zig on Feb 18, 2009. Zig was my goofball, he learned to bark, and he learned that he could have a bed in every room in the house. He went from being just a dog to a great companion. He learned how to go up and down stairs, and that there was something better to come than what might fall on the floor. He didn't need meds after a while when storms came. He could get someone to go to the basement with him. He loved to roll and learned not to mess with skunks. He hated baths...that never changed. He was 14 1/2 years old, and until the very last he loved to go for rides in the car. You couldn't leave him behind whenever you went out.

On April 21st, Saguaro Sandy crossed to the Rainbow Bridge. Sandy had survived mast cell cancer for 3.5 years with only holistic treatments. We will all miss her collecting all the woobies in the house...they all belonged to her. The little princess loved to ride in the car. She will be missed. Sandy would have been 12 years old on June 26th.

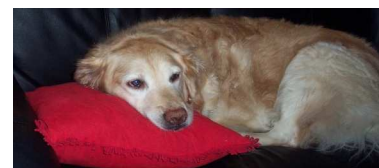

On April 27th, our beloved Hanover went to the bridge. Hannie was with us for nearly two and a half years and had the sweetest disposition for a Golden we have had. For the last 5 months of his life, he battled with bone cancer, and we tried to keep him as comfortable as possible. He will be missed terribly.

Bernie went to the bridge on April 30th, 2009. He was adopted from LAGR about 5 yrs ago. He had been diagnosed with bone cancer in early February, and while they said it was a slow growing cancer, it grew quickly. He was 95 lbs of lovin's, had the true Golden spirit as he never met a stranger and had quite the sweet tooth. He has eaten a dozen or more cinnamon rolls on TWO occasions, a pan of brownies, and 2 bags of chocolate kisses, wrappers and all....and never once got sick or even flinched! Toward the end, I talked to an animal communicator and learned about how seriously they take their roles in our lives and believe that Bernie was brought into mine for a reason and for a time... it's just sad when that time is up.

Sanford came to our pack July 2007 and was an instant "family" member. He was our foster brother for two months until we convinced our adopted mom and dad that our home should be his forever home. We had him almost two years, but he taught all of us two-legged and four-legged creatures so much in that short time. He was the true patriarch of our family. When our most recent foster came in January, Sanford was the one who really helped him begin to trust people. He was a true Golden and a great companion. He was 15 years and 4 months young. His mind and heart were still full of energy, but his body was not. He went to the bridge on May 25th after everyone in our family told him goodbye. We had you a short time Sanford, but you left a lasting impact on all of our lives!

Anyone who ever met our Twinkie remembered her. She was a vocal, sparkly little diva who was happy to meet everyone! The picture above shows her on the one place she wasn't going to be allowed on—our (at the time) new leather couch. Two years ago, I noticed a bump on Twinkie's back which turned out to be a spindle cell sarcoma. She went through five rounds of chemotherapy with little effect on her bubbly personality. In April 2008, she was diagnosed with kidney failure and placed on a special diet. This spring, her naps became longer, her walks became shorter, and her appetite disappeared. I knew the extra time we were granted with her was about over. On Tuesday, May 26th, she wagged her tail weakly at me when I left for work. I came home early that day and Twinkie was curled up on her favorite red rug and had gone to the bridge. In the entrance to my house, a houseplant that I had for years shot up a bloom for the very first time. Twinkie was an estimated seven years old when we adopted her, and she will forever be in our hearts.

VOLUNTEER HAPPENINGS!

Since our last newsletter Love a Golden volunteers have been very busy.

In February we attended an informational meeting with Dr. Kim Sanford of Heritage Veterinary Services. She covered the importance of regular fecal checks, heartworm preventive medicine and other topics. This was followed by an open floor discussion on various issues with our dogs. THANK YOU DR. SANFORD!

In March, Ruby and Joe Blair hosted a lovely St. Patrick's Day dinner for volunteers. Everyone had a lot of fun and the food was fabulous! THANKS RUBY & JOE!

LAGR's 2nd Annual Illinois Trivia was held at the KC Hall in Wood River, Illinois, on April 11, 2009. We had a great turnout with 3 more tables than we had last year. Yeah! Everyone seemed to have lots of fun. Each year we learn more, and hopefully, next year will be even more successful!!

May has been a very busy month. Love a Golden Rescue walked in the Florissant Valley of the Flowers parade. This is always a fun activity and the crowd loves to get close up and personal with the Golden Retrievers.

Our annual Flea Market was held in Arnold. This was a very successful fund raiser. We also had other rescue groups attend. Thanks to all who donated to this event and to those who worked it!! We had a great day!

People had fun playing our game, pin the tag on the collar at Bark in the Park held at Forest Park on May 16th 2009

We participated in Pet Fest at Airedale Antics in Maplewood on May 17th. This was a Rally to Rescue event organized by Doberman Rescue. A good time was had by all attending.

The end of May brought our participation in the annual Petropolis Event in Chesterfield. This is another great opportunity to meet potential adopters and make additional monies selling our various items. While initially the weather was questionable, we ended with a beautiful day and some great prospective adopters.

If you are not currently a volunteer but would like to join in the fun, please contact Love a Golden Rescue. We'd love to have you!

RECENT EVENTS

Posing for Pennies

It began as an easy way to earn some pennies for LAGR: have a photo contest, and the dog with the most pennies would be proclaimed the cutest pooch. There would be no financial outlay for our rescue group, and since Taz went every Wednesday to Griffith Elementary to “read” with the kids, the setting for our contest was decided.

Some of the photos were of LAGR dogs; others pictured belonged to teachers at the school. A long row of desks was set up in the hall, and numbered jars (with slots cut into the lid) were placed under the photographs; these photos were also numbered, placed in plastic sheet protectors and taped to the wall.

We expected just pennies to be dropped into the jars. However, as a few of the teachers got competitive, and as the children got excited about the contest, nickels, dimes, quarters and even dollars found their way into the jars.

The contest ran for almost three weeks, and after all the money was counted, Love a Golden had netted almost $500. All the dogs that entered enjoyed a prize of home baked dog biscuits heaped into a beautiful Dollar Store bowl, and the winning dog won a doggie bed and a canine picture frame.

Think about where you work...Could you have a similar contest to benefit LAGR? (You might ask Jan Knoche----she might even be able to help you out by loaning you the plastic jars to hold the money!) Even if it is small, it could be fun. A bit of friendly competition is enjoyable. You could stage it during the summer and call it the “The Dog Days of Summer “ Dog contest, or have it in the fall and call it...Well, I have already run out of semi-clever ideas, but think about it. It's easy, fun, and our rescue group could certainly use the funds.

2009 LAGR Reunion Picnic

On a beautiful June day, we had a great time at the Reunion picnic. There were 84 adults, 15 children and 54 well-behaved Golden-hearted dogs. It was great to see all of the happy tails. We played games, won prizes, bid on great silent auction items and won many attendance prizes. One of the highlights of the day was the adoption parade.

wonderful shades of gold walking around the park and to hear all of the great comments the humans had to say about their furry friends.

Thanks for a great event. We are looking forward to next year's picnic with even more families and Golden.

LOVE A GOLDEN RESCUE - BENEFACTORS

Love a Golden Rescue would like to take this opportunity to thank all of our benefactors who, since the publication of our last newsletter, have given new "forever homes" to our homeless Golden Retrievers and who have generously helped our Golden Retrievers with their financial support, gifts in kind and donated services.

FIRST-EVER COALITION OF ST. LOUIS ANIMAL WELFARE GROUPS FORMED TO MAKE ST. LOUIS ONE OF THE COUNTRY'S PET-FRIENDLIEST REGIONS

ST. LOUIS, MO (June 9, 2009) – Today, St. Louis Mayor Francis Slay joined representatives from a number of area animal shelter and rescue organizations, as well as representatives from the Nestlé Purina PetCare Company, to announce a new organization aimed at promoting responsible pet ownership and increasing pet adoptions in the region: The St. Louis Petlover Coalition.

This groundbreaking initiative represents the first partnership of its kind in the St. Louis area among animal rescue groups, shelters, veterinary organizations, and City and County health departments. (See attached fact sheet for a full list of participating organizations.) Modeled after similar efforts in Denver, Austin, and New York, the St. Louis Petlover Coalition will foster collaboration among participating groups, share best practices, and help bring awareness to issues and opportunities in the region that improve animal welfare.

The members of the coalition's working group unveiled the St. Louis Petlover Coalition logo and Web site www.stlpetlover.org, today at an event in Kiener Plaza. Featured on the Web site are immediate volunteer opportunities with the participating groups.

The coalition also will work together to determine regional benchmark statistics on spay/neuter results, stray pets, return to owner rates, adoption rates, and other key measures in order to quantify the issues for the region, then work to improve them. The coalition was initially brought together by a team at the Nestlé Purina PetCare Company in February of this year. "It's wonderful that one of our best corporate citizens, Nestlé Purina, brought this diverse group together from throughout the City and County to focus on their common goal: to save more pets," said Mayor Slay.

"Collaboration is critical for the success of the region and for the well-being of pets in the St. Louis area," said St. Louis County Health Department Director, Dr. Dolores Gunn. "While each organization will maintain its individual mission and programs, today we stand here together as the St. Louis Petlover Coalition."

While formally announced today, participating organizations already are communicating and collaborating more, and saving more pets together. Several groups realized they shared programs to adopt more senior dogs and are working to increase this reach. Also, funds for spay/neuter are being shared more broadly to impact this critical issue. Members of the coalition even came together at the City Shelter at Gasconade last week to help the City team paint as part of its facility improvements.

Unanimous Support Nestlé Purina's Vice President of Animal Welfare, Betsy Cohen, said, "We had researched and spent time in other cities that have created these kinds of coalitions – Denver, Austin, New York, and others. And we saw the amazing things that happened when individual pet organizations came together to support each other and focus on their common goal: to save pets. We wanted to see if we could make this work in St. Louis, too."

After just a couple meetings, it was clear that there was unanimous support for officially forming the St. Louis Petlover Coalition. "We didn't anticipate being able to announce this for several more months," said Cohen. "But we reached consensus very quickly. Given the current economy, and with the pressing need these groups have for volunteers this summer, we felt it was imperative to announce the Coalition as soon as possible."

Cohen emphasized that Coalition participants will maintain their independence and respective missions, but will collaborate to save pets and promote responsible pet ownership.

"We applaud what the St. Louis animal community is doing," said Bob Rohde, President and CEO of the Denver Dumb Friends League. "When I was asked to speak to the working group and share the successes we've had in Denver, I was excited to help bring the idea of a coalition to life in St. Louis."

To learn more about the St. Louis Petlover Coalition or volunteer opportunities with any of the participating organizations, please visit www.stlpetlover.org.

About the St. Louis Petlover Coalition The St. Louis Petlover Coalition fosters collaborative efforts of local animal welfare groups and the community to promote responsible pet ownership and to increase the save rate of companion animals in our community.
